

I listen to XM radio about 25% of my radio experience. I listen to local radio for weather and traffic. I listen to XM as background to my work at home office and drive time during peak talk radio. I just want to hear music with no chitchat. Instant weather and traffic helps to avoid the other garbage conversation offered on regular radio. I can get it quickly without a lot of rhetoric.